TO OUR PATRONS.

In issuing this our Eighth Semi-annual Catalogue, we shall endeavor to present to our readers a carefully arranged list of articles, especially adapted to the wants of those living where it is impossible to choose from a large variety, and at the same time giving them the benefit of our universal low prices.

The constantly increasing magnitude and number of our orders by mail, during the last seven years, may be safely attributed to the prompt and careful attention paid every letter as soon as received, and to the fact that none but experienced attendants are employed in the selection of goods ordered.

We shall inaugurate the coming season with a much finer class of goods in all departments than it has ever been our pleasure to offer.

The Latest Novelties from all the European markets, and every description of goods, both Foreign and Domestic, will appear on our counters as fast as produced, and with thirty buyers constantly on the alert to secure everything that is new and desirable, we shall always be able to accommodate any demand pertaining to Dry Goods Merchandise, and shall be always most happy to answer any questions, and send samples of our stock for selection, such as Silks, Dress Fabrics, Woollens, Fringes, House-keeping goods, Upholstery Laces, etc. etc., excepting Real Laces, they being in most cases too expensive to cut.

In conducting this Department we shall not advance our prices above those made to customers visiting our establishment in person, and as we never, under any consideration, made two prices for the same goods, any party at a distance will be sure to receive the same advantages, besides avoiding the expense and fatigue of a journey to Boston.

The increased facilities for transportation are also to be considered, in the nominal rate affixed by the Government for packages sent through the Post-office, and the very moderate rates of Express Cos'. charges.

No expense has been spared to perfect the systematic arrangement of our Mail Order Department, while our sole motive will be to please our Patrons in every respect, maintaining this to be the only true way to gain their unlimited confidence, and to this end special care is given to selecting the very best goods with which to fill their orders, and in every instance where articles sent are not satisfactory, we shall always be pleased to allow an exchange, or to refund the money on the return of the unsuitable article.

The list of prices herein compiled, embraces only a small part of our extensive stock, minute detail being an impossibility on account of limited space.

We feel justified in requesting a careful perusal.

 We do not misrepresent our goods nor deal in worthless articles.

LADIES' SUIT AND CLOAK DEPARTMENT.

Being represented every season in Paris, London, and Berlin, we are always enabled to offer to our customers all the leading novelties as fast as they are produced in the European markets; and our position as the leading house in this branch of business in the New-England States gives us the advantage of securing our materials at the very lowest prices. This, combined with our improved facilities for manufacturing, is an assurance of our ability to produce the newest and most elegant designs, and superiority of finish, at the most economical prices. Our assortment of suits of every material and design is always complete, as we are constantly receiving the latest novelties in walking, dinner, and evening costumes, from the best houses in Paris and Berlin; and ladies can always rely upon finding the most correct styles.

The dress-making branch of our business, occupying two entire floors of our extensive warehouse, continues to grow in favor. Our largely-increasing trade in the manufacture of ladies' dresses proves to us that our efforts to meet a growing want of the public are appreciated to the fullest extent, our orders having more than doubled during the past season. Ladies can therefore rely at all times on having their orders filled in the most approved manner. The modistes employed at this establishment being only of the first excellence, perfect fits and superiority of finish are always guaranteed.

This department is in the hands of one of the most competent and thoroughly experienced men in his line in the country; he has to assist him twenty of the most artistic and thoroughly educated dress-makers to be found in any mercantile house. Through this combination of talent it is possible for a lady to furnish her wardrobe with any style of garment, the design and workmanship of which will be equal to any Parisian costume, and at less than half the cost of an imported dress. This is a fact which is now so generally understood that our workrooms are always crowded with orders, and the finish and workmanship of every garment which is sent out from this department are so superior that every order brings another; and it is our constant endeavor to always maintain this high standard of excellence in our work.

All orders for suits or garments which we receive, without especial instructions as to the style and design, will be executed in the very latest mode. To ladies desirous of ordering complete outfits, special estimates will be furnished; this will save the trouble and expense of having several articles of apparel made at as many different places.

 Mourning orders executed at short notice, and, when desired, a competent person sent to take the measures.

In connection with our Suit Department, we sell the celebrated "Bazaar Patterns," and have the exclusive control of them in this market.

These being the only reliable patterns as to the insurance of fit, quantity of material, etc., we have confidence in recommending them to our patrons as paper patterns on which they can rely to secure proper proportions, elegance of design, and correct instructions as to quantity of material necessary.

SHAWL DEPARTMENT.

This Department has been greatly enlarged and improved, and it is unquestionably one of the most elegant, spacious, and best-lighted Departments of the kind in this country. We have devoted one of the most eligible rooms in our building exclusively to this important branch of the business, and have had special buyers in Europe securing everything that would add to the attractiveness and completeness of the stock. We are now able to offer the largest and cheapest stock of shawls that it has ever been our pleasure to exhibit.

An important part of our European buyers' business this season has been to attend the Great Trade Sale of India Shawls held in London in December last. These sales are held semi-annually, and the goods offered are exclusively of Indian manufacture, and embrace almost the entire production of India Shawls; consequently large buyers from all parts of the world resort there to purchase, and the competition for these much-prized shawls is always lively; but the last sale was unusually sharp, owing to the scarcity of the goods. NOTICE.

A new postal regulation admits of the registration of bundles sent through the mail, the fee being ten cents additional to the regular merchandise rate of one cent per ounce, provided the package weighs not over four pounds and no writing is enclosed, thus affording much greater security than before.

We are always prepared and most happy to send samples of any description of goods, from the latest Parisian novelties to the standard fabrics of our own country; and as there has been made a special department in reference to supplying our customers and friends throughout the United States, we are able to assure them that their orders, either for goods or samples, will receive the most diligent attention.

Should you conclude to order from samples, we would suggest making a second choice in case the first should be sold; and would advise sending money-order or registered letter in payment, to secure safe transmission. Goods sent C.O.D. when desired.

All orders received by us are executed with the utmost care and promptness.

 We should strongly advise all parties ordering goods to have them sent by express, as this method of transmission is much surer, and the goods are received in much better order.
